Turning Your Phone On and Off

Turning Your Phone On

▶ Press and hold [END].

Once your phone is on and finds a signal, it automatically enters standby mode – the phone's idle state. At this point, you are ready to begin making and receiving calls.

If your phone is unable to find a signal after 15 minutes of searching, a Power Save feature is automatically activated. When a signal is found, your phone automatically returns to standby mode.

In Power Save mode, your phone searches for a signal periodically without your intervention. You can also initiate a search for service by pressing any key except numbered keys.

Tip The Power Save feature conserves your battery power when you are in an area where there is no signal.

Turning Your Phone Off

▶ Press and hold [END] for two seconds until you see the powering-down animation on the display screen.

Your screen remains blank while your phone is off unless the battery is charging.

Battery and Charger

| WARNING | Use only manufacturer-approved batteries and chargers with your phone. The failure to use a manufacturer-approved battery and charger may increase the risk that your phone will overheat, catch fire, or explode, resulting in serious bodily injury, death, or property damage. |

Battery Capacity

Your phone is equipped with a Lithium Ion (Li-Ion) battery. It allows you to recharge your battery before it is fully drained. The battery provides up to 5.8 hours of continuous digital talk time.

For a quick check of your battery level, glance at the battery charge indicator located in the upper right corner of your phone's display screen. When there are approximately five minutes of talk time left, the battery icon (▪) turns red and the phone sounds a warning tone.

After an additional five minutes or so, the phone sounds a warning tone three times and then turns off.

| Note | Long backlight settings, searching for service, vibrate mode, browser use, and other variables may reduce the battery's talk and standby times. |

| Tip | Watch your phone's battery level indicator and charge the battery before it runs out of power. |

Installing the Battery

Removing the Battery

1. Make sure the power is off so that you don't lose any stored numbers or messages.

2. To open, insert a fingernail into the slot ( ① ), and apply light pressure while sliding the cover down ( ② ).

3. Lift the battery up and remove it from the phone ( ③ ).

| WARNING | Do not handle a damaged or leaking Li-Ion battery as you can be burned. |
Charging the Battery

Keeping track of your battery's charge is important. If your battery level becomes too low, your phone automatically turns off, and you will lose any information you were just working on.

Always use a manufacturer-approved desktop charger, travel charger, or vehicle power adapter to charge your battery.

1. Plug the phone charger into an electrical outlet.

2. Plug the other end of the phone charger into the micro-USB connector located on the upper left side of your phone.

With the manufacturer-approved Li-Ion battery, you can recharge the battery before it becomes completely run down.

In addition, text messaging includes a variety of preset messages, such as "I can't talk now, please send a message," that make composing messages fast and easy. Use your phone to customize your own preset messages (up to 50 characters).

Text messages can be composed of up to six segments of 160 characters each, for a total of 960 characters per text message. The current segment and total segment count is displayed at the top of each segment. For example, (5/6) at the top of a segment would indicate you are viewing segment five of a six-segment message.

- ◆ Accessing Messages (page 84)
- ◆ Downloading Games, Ringtones, and More (page 86)
- ◆ Browser Menu (page 88)
- ◆ Data Services FAQs (page 90)

Getting Started With Data Services

With your data service, you are ready to start enjoying the advantages of data services. This section will help you learn the basics of using your data services, including managing your user name, launching a data connection, and navigating the Web with your phone.

Your User Name

When you buy your phone and sign up for service, you're automatically assigned a user name, which is typically based on your name and a number, followed by "@myboostmobile.sprintpcs.com." (For example, the third John Smith to sign up for data services might have jsmith003@myboostmobile.sprintpcs.com as his user name.)

When you use data services, your user name is submitted to identify you to the Network. Your user name will be automatically programmed into your phone. You don't have to enter it.

Finding Your User Name

If you are not sure what your user name is, you can easily find it on your phone.

▶ Press [OK] > Settings/Tools > Settings > Phone Info > Phone#/User ID.

Updating Your User Name

If you choose to change your user name and select a new one online, you must then update the user name on your phone.

▶ Press [OK] > Settings/Tools > Settings > Others > Data > Update Data Profile. (To cancel, press [END] before completing the update.)

Web and Data

Launching a Web Connection

Data Connection Status and Indicators

Your phone displays the current status of your data connection through indicators at the top of the screen. The following symbols are used:

You are connected to the data network. Data is being transferred (for example, when you are opening a Web page) and you cannot receive calls.

You are connected to the network but data is not currently being transferred (for example, when you are viewing a Web page that is completely open), and you can receive calls.

If you do not see an indicator, your phone does not have a current data connection. To launch a connection, see "Launching a Web Connection."

Navigating the Web

Navigating through menus and websites during a data session is easy once you've learned a few basics. Here are some tips for getting around.

Softkeys

How do I sign in for the first time?
You are automatically signed in to access data services when you turn on your phone.

How do I know when my phone is connected to data services?
Your phone automatically connects when data service is used or an incoming message arrives. You will also see the $\square$ indicator.

Can I make calls and use data services at the same time?

When is my data connection dormant?
If your phone receives no data for 10 seconds, the connection goes dormant. When the connection is dormant, you can make and receive voice calls. (The connection may become active again quickly.) If no data is received for an extended period of time, the connection will terminate.

Can I sign out of data services?
You can sign out without turning off your phone; however, you will not be able to browse the Web or use other data services. While signed out, you can still place or receive phone calls, check voicemail, and use other voice services. You may sign in again at any time. # Safety and Warranty Information

4A. Important Safety Information

- General Precautions (page 94)
- Maintaining Safe Use of and Access to Your Phone (page 94)
- Using Your Phone With a Hearing Aid Device (page 96)
- Caring for the Battery (page 97)
- Radio Frequency (RF) Energy (page 98)
- Owner's Record (page 100)
- User Guide Proprietary Notice (page 100)
- Copyright Notice (page 100)

This phone guide contains important operational and safety information that will help you safely use your phone. Failure to read and follow the information provided in this phone guide may result in serious bodily injury, death, or property damage.

General Precautions

There are several simple guidelines to operating your phone properly and maintaining safe, satisfactory service.

- To maximize performance, do not touch the bottom portion of your phone where the internal antenna is located while using the phone.
- Speak directly into the mouthpiece.
- Avoid exposing your phone and accessories to rain or liquid spills. If your phone does get wet, immediately turn the power off and remove the battery.
- Do not expose your phone to direct sunlight for extended periods of time (such as on the dashboard of a car).
- Although your phone is quite sturdy, it is a complex piece of equipment and can be broken. Avoid dropping, hitting, bending, or sitting on it.
- Any changes or modifications to your phone not expressly approved in this document could void your warranty for this equipment and void your authority to operate this equipment.
- Authorized personnel should service your phone and accessories. Failure to do so may be dangerous and void your warranty.

Maintaining Safe Use of and Access to Your Phone

Do Not Rely on Your Phone for Emergency Calls

Mobile phones operate using radio signals, which cannot guarantee connection in all conditions. Therefore you should never rely solely upon any mobile phone for essential communication (e.g., medical emergencies). Emergency calls may not be possible on all wireless networks or when certain network services or mobile phone features are in use. Check with your local service provider for details.

Using Your Phone While Driving

Using on your phone while driving (or operating the phone without a hands-free device) is prohibited in certain jurisdictions. Laws vary as to specific restrictions. Remember to focus on driving first.

Following Safety Guidelines

To operate your phone safely and efficiently, always follow any special regulations in a given area. Turn your phone off in areas where use is forbidden or when it may cause interference or danger.

Using Your Phone Near Other Electronic Devices

Most modern electronic equipment is shielded from radio frequency (RF) signals. However, RF signals from wireless phones may affect inadequately shielded electronic equipment.

RF signals may affect improperly installed or inadequately shielded electronic operating systems or entertainment systems in motor vehicles. Check with the manufacturer or their representative to determine if these systems are adequately shielded from external RF signals. Also check with the manufacturer regarding any equipment that has been added to your vehicle.

Personal Implantable Medical Devices

Consult the manufacturer of any personal medical devices, such as pacemakers and hearing aids, to determine if they are adequately shielded from external RF signals.

| Note | Always request permission before using the phone in healthcare facilities or near medical equipment. |
|---|---|

Turning Off Your Phone Before Flying

To prevent possible interference with aircraft systems, the U.S. Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) regulations require you to have permission from a crew member to use your phone while the plane is on the ground. To help prevent the risk of interference, regulations prohibit using your phone while the plane is in the air.

Turning Off Your Phone in Dangerous Areas

To avoid interfering with blasting operations, turn your phone off when in a blasting area or in other areas with signs indicating two-way radios should be turned off. Construction crews often use remote-control RF devices to set off explosives.

Turn your phone off when you're in any area that has a potentially explosive atmosphere. Although it's rare, your phone and accessories could generate sparks. Sparks can cause an explosion or fire, resulting in bodily injury or even death. These areas are often, but not always, clearly marked. They may include:

- Fueling areas, such as gas stations.
- Below deck on ships and boats.
- Fuel or chemical transfer or storage facilities.
- Areas where the air contains chemicals or particles such as grain, dust, or metal powders.
- Any other area where you would normally be advised to turn off your vehicle's engine, for example.

| Note | Never transport or store flammable gas, flammable liquids, or explosives in the compartment of your vehicle that contains your phone or accessories. |
|---|---|

Restricting Children's Access to Your Phone

Your phone is not a toy. Do not allow children to play with it as they could hurt themselves and others, damage the phone, make inadvertent emergency calls, or make other calls that may impact your Boost account.

Using Your Phone With a Hearing Aid Device

A number of Boost phones have been tested for hearing aid device compatibility. When some wireless phones are used with certain hearing devices (including hearing aids and cochlear implants), users may detect a noise which can interfere with the effectiveness of the hearing device.

Some hearing devices are more immune than others to this interference noise, and phones also vary in the amount of interference noise they may generate. ANSI standard C63.19 was developed to provide a standardized means of measuring both wireless phone and hearing devices to determine usability rating categories for both.

Ratings have been developed for mobile phones to assist hearing device users to find phones that may be compatible with their hearing device. Not all phones have been rated for compatibility with hearing devices. Phones that have been rated have a label located on the box. Your SANYO Mirro™ has an M4 and a T4 rating.

These ratings are not guarantees. Results will vary depending on the user's hearing device and individual type and degree of hearing loss. If a hearing device is particularly vulnerable to interference noise, even a phone with a higher rating may still cause unacceptable noise levels in the hearing device. Trying out the phone with your hearing device is the best way to evaluate it for your personal needs.

M-Ratings: Phones rated M3 or M4 meet FCC requirements for hearing aid compatibility and are likely to generate less interference to hearing devices than unrated phones. (M4 is the better/higher of the two ratings.)

T-Ratings: Phones rated T3 or T4 meet FCC requirements and are likely to be more usable with a hearing device's telecoil ("T Switch" or "Telephone Switch") than unrated phones. (T4 is the better/higher of the two ratings. Note that not all hearing devices have telecoils in them.)

Hearing aid devices may also be measured for immunity to interference noise from wireless phones and should have ratings similar to phones. Ask your hearing healthcare professional for the rating of your hearing aid. Add the rating of your hearing aid and your phone to determine probable usability:

● Any combined rating equal to or greater than six offers excellent use.

● Any combined rating equal to five is considered normal use.

● Any combined rating equal to four is considered usable.

Thus, if you pair an M3 hearing aid with an M3 phone, you will have a combined rating of six for "excellent use." This is synonymous for T ratings.

Boost further suggests you experiment with multiple phones (even those not labeled M3/T3 or M4/T4) while in the store to find the one that works best with your hearing aid device. Should you experience interference or find the quality of service unsatisfactory after purchasing your phone, promptly return it to the store. More information about hearing aid compatibility may be found at: www.fcc.gov, www.fda.gov, and www.accesswireless.org.

Getting the Best Hearing Device Experience With Your Phone

To further minimize interference:

● Set the phone's display and keypad backlight settings to ensure the minimum time interval (see also page 25):

1. Press [MENU/OK] > Settings/Tools > Settings > Display > Backlight > Backlight Dim or Backlight Off.

2. Highlight the minimum time interval setting and press [MENU/OK].

● Position the phone so the internal antenna is farthest from your hearing aid.

● Move the phone around to find the point with least interference.

Caring for the Battery

Protecting Your Battery

The guidelines listed below help you get the most out of your battery's performance.

● Recently there have been some public reports of wireless phone batteries overheating, catching fire or exploding. It appears that many, if not all, of these reports involve counterfeit or inexpensive, aftermarket-brand batteries with unknown or questionable manufacturing standards. Boost is not aware of similar problems with Boost phones resulting from the proper use of batteries and accessories approved by the manufacturer of your phone. Use only manufacturer-approved batteries and accessories through your phone's manufacturer. Buying the right batteries and accessories is the best way to ensure they're genuine and safe.

● Do not disassemble or open crush, bend or deform, puncture or shred the battery.

● Do not modify or remanufacture, attempt to insert foreign objects into the battery, immerse or expose to water or other liquids, expose to fire, explosion or other hazard.

● Avoid dropping the phone or battery. If the phone or battery is dropped, especially on a hard surface, and the user suspects damage, take it to a service center for inspection.

● Improper battery use may result in a fire, explosion or other hazard.

● Do not short circuit a battery or allow metallic conductive objects to contact battery terminals.

● Keep the metal contacts on top of the battery clean.

● Battery usage by children should be supervised.

Charging

● In order to avoid damage, charge the battery only in temperatures that range from 32° F to 113° F (0° C to 45° C).

● Don't use the battery charger in direct sunlight or in high humidity areas, such as the bathroom.

● The battery may need recharging if it has not been used for a long period of time.

● It's best to replace the battery when it no longer provides acceptable performance. It can be recharged hundreds of times before it needs replacing.

Storing

● Don't store the battery in high temperature areas for long periods of time. It's best to follow these storage rules:

Less than one month:
-4° F to 140° F (-20° C to 60° C)

More than one month:
-4° F to 113° F (-20° C to 45° C)

Disposal of Lithium Ion (Li-Ion) Batteries

● Promptly dispose of used batteries in accordance with local regulations.

● Never dispose of the battery by incineration.

● Do not handle a damaged or leaking Li-Ion battery as you can be burned.

● For safe disposal options of your Li-Ion batteries, contact your nearest Boost authorized service center.

Special Note: Be sure to dispose of your battery properly. In some areas, the disposal of batteries in household or business trash may be prohibited.

Radio Frequency (RF) Energy

Understanding How Your Phone Operates

Your phone is basically a radio transmitter and receiver. When it's turned on, it receives and transmits radio frequency (RF) signals. When you use your phone, the system handling your call controls the power level. This power can range from 0.006 watt to 0.2 watt in digital mode.

Knowing Radio Frequency Safety

The design of your phone complies with updated NCRP standards described below.

In 1991–92, the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE) and the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) joined in updating ANSI's 1982 standard for safety levels with respect to human exposure to RF signals. More than 120 scientists, engineers and physicians from universities, government health agencies and industries developed this updated standard after reviewing the available body of research. In 1993, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) adopted this updated standard in a regulation. In August 1996, the FCC adopted hybrid standard consisting of the existing ANSI/IEEE standard and the guidelines published by the National Council of Radiation Protection and Measurements (NCRP).

Body-Worn Operation

To maintain compliance with FCC RF exposure guidelines, if you wear a handset on your body, use the Boost-supplied or Boost-approved carrying case, holster or other body-worn accessory. If you do not use a body-worn accessory, ensure the antenna is at least 0.866 inches (2.2 centimeters) from your body when transmitting. Use of non-Boost-approved accessories may violate FCC RF exposure guidelines. Other accessories used with this device for body-worn operations must not contain any metallic components and must provide at least 0.866 inches (2.2 centimeters) separation distance including the antenna and the user's body.

For more information about RF exposure, visit the FCC website at www.fcc.gov.

Specific Absorption Rates (SAR) for Wireless Phones

The SAR is a value that corresponds to the relative amount of RF energy absorbed in the head of a user of a wireless handset.

The SAR value of a phone is the result of an extensive testing, measuring and calculation process. It does not represent how much RF the phone emits. All phone models are tested at their highest value in strict laboratory settings. But when in operation, the SAR of a phone can be substantially less than the level reported to the FCC. This is because of a variety of factors including its proximity to a base station antenna, phone design and other factors. What is important to remember is that each phone meets strict federal guidelines. Variations in SARs do not represent a variation in safety.

All phones must meet the federal standard, which incorporates a substantial margin of safety. As stated above, variations in SAR values between different model phones do not mean variations in safety. SAR values at or below the federal standard of 1.6 W/kg are considered safe for use by the public.

The highest reported SAR values of the SANYO Mirro™ are:

> Cellular CDMA mode (Part 22):
> Head: 0.32 W/kg; Body-worn: 0.46 W/kg
> PCS mode (Part 24):
> Head: 0.87 W/kg; Body-worn: 0.38 W/kg

FCC Radio Frequency Emission

This phone meets the FCC Radio Frequency Emission Guidelines.
